Greetings from the Library!

This month’s newsletter highlights the FIN E-Archive, the Library’s digital collection of historical Finance publications. We also profile Library staff and introduce you to the Department’s two librarians, who remain available to offer remote services.

The FIN E-Archive: A Gateway to 150 Years of Finance Publications

The E-Archive provides access to a number of historical Department of Finance publications dating back as early as 1866. These include press releases, working papers, budget speeches and other types of documents authored by the Department. The contents include scans of original material from the Library’s print collection and many of these documents are not available through other online sources.

The E-Archive is available through the Virtual Library. To access the collection, click on the link for Historical Finance Publications. This link will direct you to the Virtual Library Catalogue. From here, you can browse the contents of the E-Archive. If you are looking for a specific document, you can search by title or keyword using the search bar at the top of the screen.

With the E-Archive, information is just a click away! Explore the contents to discover a collection of original material on a variety of Finance-related topics.

Meet Your Librarians!

Kathleen Cummings
Reference Librarian

Kathleen joined the Department in May 2019. She earned a Master of Information degree with a concentration in Library and Information Science from the University of Toronto. Before joining the Department, she worked in academic libraries. She is a member of the Beta Phi Mu International Honor Society for Library and Information Studies and the Ontario Library Association. One of her favourite parts of working at the Library is meeting Library users and providing research services.

Jessica Lynch
Research Librarian

Jessica has been working at the Library since January 2016. She earned her bilingual Master of Information Studies degree from the University of Ottawa. She is currently president of the 90 Elgin Toastmasters club. She teaches American Sign Language at Carleton University. Feel free to reach out with questions about research, the Library, Toastmasters, or Deaf culture (including personal questions).

Both librarians are available by email and look forward to meeting with you virtually!
